The message should have said last year. I was calling in reference to the trip that [redacted] and I took to [redacted]. We met several interrogators to include [redacted] who we had dinner with one evening and joined our group for lunch the following day. We discussed areas of mutual interest as it pertains to interviewing terrorists. I think there was clearly an interest in sharing ideas regarding interview, interrogation, rapport-building concepts, polygraph, etc. You and I discussed the possibility of future discussions with them about this issue and potential for their insight into the interrogation issues at GTMO. [redacted] experience, and that of some of his colleagues we met is obviously vast. I recognize that their experience is different from the GTMO experience, however there are many thematic commonalities.

You may know that we have SSA's from our group here that are assigned in teams of two for 45 day TDY's at GTMO to support the interview and interrogation effort there. We have been doing that since August of 2002. On 2/21/03 SSA [redacted] (our GTMO project coordinator) and I met with [redacted] Art Cummings and SSA [redacted] (he had just returned from GTMO TDY) at HQ and the issue of opening some discreet level of dialogue with appropriate Israeli's about GTMO was discussed. [redacted] more recently there have been additional inquiries on this issue.

I want to get your insight and guidance about the best way to move forward with this. I expect that it will involve sensitivities that you will have insight into from your Legat experience there. I'd be glad to discuss this with you in person or on the phone, whatever you prefer.
Best regards,

Greetings [redacted] I received a phone message from you on Friday, and I apologize for not getting back. I'd intended to do it again today, and well... here I am. I'm a bit confused though. The message says that your call was a "follow-up call" [redacted] ??? I wasn't there, so perhaps the message is garbled. Anyway, again, sorry I've not returned your call. I should be in my cave most of tomorrow and I'll try to reach you. Feel free to send an e-mail note or call on [redacted] Thanks [redacted]
